THE MAZYCK-STREET HOSPITAL .- By invitation of the surgeon in charge, Dr. J. Somers Buist, the members of the Medical Association visited the Mazyck street Hospital yesterday, and were conducted through the various wards. The condition of the hospital, which challenges comparison with any similar institution in the country, gave great satisfaction to the visitors. During their stay Dr. Buist performed, in a highly satisfactory manner, an amputation. The new addition to the hospital was also visited.

THE ÆTNA PICNIC at the Schueizenplatz, yesterday, was a most enjoyable affair. The company in all numbered about two hundred and fitty persons, a large proportion of whom were ladies. Dancing, lunches and shooting for the prize-a silver butter dish-were the entertainments of the day. The prize was won by Mr. Thos. Watson. Chief Nathan, and representatives from the several fire companies. were on the ground in uniform. The festivities of the Ætna closed in the evening with a pleasant hop at their hall.

A Pleasing Incident.—The former servants of Mr. McNellage, who was buried yesterday, asked as a great favor to be permitted to carry the remains of their old master to the grave. Their request was granted, and they carried the body to the hearse, followed the hearse to Magnolia, and then carried the body to its last resting place. This is a pleasing proof of the kindly teelings which exist between the colored people and their former owners, where they have not been led astray by negro demagogues and carpet-bag politicians.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA RAILBOAD COMPANY. The Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel of yesterday says:

On yesterday, we learn from the best authority, Mr. W. J. Magrath, the President of the company, made the following proposition to the City Council: That his company would drop all the suits which it has brought against the Columbia and Augusta Road; would cease opposing its entrance into Augusta an lallow the road when it reached Hamburg to connect with the Carolina Road, and use the bridge and tracks of the latter on which to enter the city, until the other company could build their own bridge across the Savannah, on condition that the Columbia Road pays one hundred thousand dollars for the privilege—payment to be made in the bonds of the last named road, which will be taken at par. Colonel Wm. Johnston, President of the Columbia Road, was telegraphed yesterday of this proposition, but we were unable to learn what was his reply. It is impossible, as yet, to determine whether the proposal will be accepted or rejected.

THE QUO WARRANTO CASE. Iderman Greene Completes the Doubtful Aldermanic Trio-What was Done

Early yesterday morning a writ of quo waranto was served on Alderman Greene, who, as in the case of Alderman Barrow, is said to have removed from the ward which he was elected to represent, thereby vacating his office. This writ was made returnable yesterday at 10 P. M., when Aldermen T. J. Mackey, Barrow and Greene appeared by counsel before Associate Justice Willard. When the court was opened the relators were

Esq., and Sam'l Lord, Esq. T. B. King, Esq., appeared for Alderman Greene, and Mr. C. C. Bowon for Aldermen Mackey and Barrow. Mr. C. C. Bowen moved that R. F. Tharin Esq., be admitted to practice in the courts of the State, that he might appear as one of the counsel for Aldermen Mackey and Barrow. Judge Willard decided that Mr. Tharin could be admitted for this particular case, but not for general practice; and Mr. Tharin was so ad-

Mr. Tharin then moved that the writs against Aldermen Mackey and Barrow be dismissed, for the following reasons:

1. The writ being issued against a member of a parliamentary and legislative body which has adopted the rules of the United States House of Representatives, the question is coram non justice, because the City Council only have the right to judge of the qualifications of their own members.

2. The Constitution of the State, adopted March 17, 1868, repeals the act of 1818, in Article 8, section 7. The residing in the ward is no onger required.

3. The act of March 1, 1869, validifying the election, was an act passed under the constitution now in force, and hence applies to the new tenure-of-office, having cured forever all irregularities "alleged" by the adherents to the ancient tenure. Mr. Pressley said that these pleas should be made the return of the defendants. If this were not done, the defendants would by these pleas be able to test the feeling of the couri on the main facts of the case, and would, if the court were against them, be able then to make a formal return to the writ, which would be equivalent to having two trials of the substance of the case, and a great disadvantage to the relators.

Mr. Tharin sail that the defendants did not make a return to the writ, but pleaded to the jurisdiction of the court, which they had the right to do. The City Council alone could decide the matter, for they were the only judges of the qualifications of their members. By them the question must be heard, adjudicated and finally determined, and to them it should have been submitted.

Mr. Pressley explained the effect of the pleas out in by the defence, and cited authority to prove that a writ of quo warranto could not be dismissed or quashed, no return to the will baving been made.

Judge Willard said that if the defendants were right, a resolution of C. uncil or an ordinance of Council would have the power to oust a case from the highest court in the State.

Mr. Tharin said he was not prepared to show by what statute Council was given the authority to determine the qualifications of its members. It had that power under the general law of the State, and of the United States; but he had not had time to find the particular statute. Nor had he any authority to show that the writ might be dismissed as a plea to the jurisdiction of the court.

Judge Willard said that he would hold to the authority cited by the relators, and ruled that the respondents must make a return to the writ.

Mr. Bowen asked that the case be continued to Monday morning, to give the defendants time to make their return.

Mr. Pressley opposed this motion because City Council was hurrying up matters in such Hazel, (white,) while walking on Vendue a way as to make necessary a speedy determi-Range yesterday, was set upon by two dogs, nation of the case if any good were to be accomplished by it. Council was holding nightly sessions and reading bills three times at one meeting. This might be right or wrong. Council might be doing good or harm. But as persons who were believed to be disqualified were taking part in the proceedings and making laws, it was absolutely necessary to have their right decided without delay. He was willing to give the defendants just as much time as they desired, if they would not, pending the decision of the court, proceed to exercise the powers which it was claimed were unauthorized. But if the parties were resolved to go on until stopped by the courts, there should be no postponement in the hearing of the case. Mr. Bowen. May it please your Honor, I have seen the handwriting on the wall. When the other side can's get men to vote as they please they come in here, call them incompetent, and get out a quo warranto. I am not here to make any agreement for City Council. I am here to defend two men against whom charges have been made. As for Council, I do not know aught about it. Mr. Bowen spoke for some minutes, and when he had finished the court ordered that the further hearing of the case be continued t, Monday morning next, at 10 A. M., when the returns in all three cases must be filed.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE, PRESIDING.

At 11 o'clock precisely, yesterday morning, his Honor Chief Justice S. P. Chase and his Honor Judge Bryan, conducted by Mr. Epping, United States Marshal (Mr. Johnson not having yet qualified.) entered and took their seats upon the judge's stand. The bar evidenced their respect for the Chief Justice by the attendance in a body of almost all its members. Quite a large number of spectators were also present. After the Chief Justice had taken his seat, a number of the members of the bar came forward and were introduced by his Honor Judge Bryan, among whom were Hon. C. G. Memminger and Edward McCrady, Sr., and others.

The United States Circuit Court, which comnenced its session on the 1st of April, has been continued from day to day by Judge Bryan until yesterday, when the Chief Justice took his seat to hear such cases as were on apneal from the United States District Court; and also such equity and law cases as the members of the bar requested should be heard by a full bench. At the suggestion of Chief Justice Chase, previous to his arrival in this city, Judge Bryan had a list prepared of such cases as the bar required to be heard by a full bench. We learn there are some ten cases of appeal on the admiralty docket, nineteen law cases, seven cases in equity and one appeal in bank-said: Gentiemen of the Bar—There has been a special docket arranged for this term. The duties which devolve upon me are such as to require that my presence here should not certainly exceed two weeks. During the time I can devote to this court, I desire to accomplish all that I can in the way of business. As the cases are not regularly prepared to-day I will hear any case, whether upon the appeal docket.

Chief Justice Chase, in opening the court,

cases are not regularly prepared to-day I will hear any case, whether upon the appeal docket or upon any other docket.

It is hardly necessary I should add that I shall be greatly indebted to the bar if they will make their arguments as brief as is consistent with the discharge of their duties, so that the number of cases disposed of will be as great as can be conveniently heard to the public interest.

The first case taken up was the case of in ee. John Odom, bankrupt, ex parte J. H. Hudson. Motion to reverse order of District Judge establishing the validity of a note the consideration of which was for the purchase of slaves. C. W. Dudley and William Whalev, Esqs., appeared for appellant; Messrs. C. P. Townsend and J. Burrett Cohen, Esqs., contra. The case involves the validity of a note given for slaves in 1858, Judge Bryan having decided in favor of the note.

The argument was opened by Mr. Dudley for appellant. Messis. Townsend and J. B. Cohen followed in reply. Mr. Whaley closed on the part of appellant.

The next case in equity was that of the South western Railroad Bank vs. Edwin Parsons, E. P. Scott and others, being a bill for injunction, direction and relief. Messrs. W. A. Pringle and Edward McCrady, Esqs., for the bank; Messrs. Yeadon, Dougherty and Memminger contra. Mr. Pringle read the bill and affidavits and addressed the court. Messrs. Yeadon and Memminger read the answer. Messrs. Yeadon and Memminger followed in reply to Mr. Pringle.

Previous to the hearing of the above case, on motion of Mr. Yeadon, Wm. Dougherty, Esq., a practitioner in the United States Courts of Georgia, was admited to practice in the United States Courts for South Carolina.

In reply to Mr. Memminger, the Chief Justice stated it was not his purpose to call either of the dockets regularly, but to have the bar indicate to the clerk such cases as they desire to have placed upon the special docket. They might then be taken in their regular order taking the appeal docket first. He desired to accommodate the bar as far as practicable, and if they can agree among themselves as to what cases they desire to have submitted to a full court, they may be given to the clerk, to be taken up in their order.

The Chief Justice gave notice that he would call the admiralty docket at eleven o'clock this morning.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEWS. I have completed the mailing of my circular to every man and woman in the City of Charleston, according to the City Directory, Charleston, according to the City Directory, which is very deficient I know. Very many ask me how I succeed. It you permit it I will hereby answer. Many say "they are poor and cannot help now." Several say they had forgotten, after it was laid aside with good intention to help. Others have sent us the dollar and sums under. Others the dollar and sums over—one as high as ten dollars. Others, with their money, have written words of encouragement. The great majority have not as yet responded in any way. Several hundreds of the circulars have been returned as "dead," so that I have not received over the expensos so that I have not received over the expenses so that I have not received over the expenses one-tenth of what is needed.

I hope the non-responding and the forgetful who intend to give our holy enterprise their support will "hurry up," for we have been delayed by the lack of postage stamps already much longer than we expected from making a finish.

We know the disadvantage under which we labored in having no meetings, no amuse-ments, no feasts, no fun, but just the "dollar." I would not here mention the fact that this call would not have been made on the citizens if our church in the city could have enjoyed an estate valued at from forty to seventy thousand dollars by will, but said estate has been seized by the same denomination, by the bayonet or military, and held from us so that my church cannot get her share. I would not have noticed this fact, but the leading ministers of that church, by letter and in person, have called me to account for as they say have called me to account for, as they say, throwing a 'firebrand' out in the community

They have their hand on on our throat-they are stabbing us with cold steel-stripping us of all, and boasting, as they did in my ear, of their superior riches in the city over our church, and when we call on our fellow-citi-zens for help, to say of us it we speak of our poverty and want, which they are producing, "You throw firebrands," out-Herods Herod—"Tantane ire in coelestibus animis."

The Camden Journal (May 6th) says: "No Christian could ever think of stoaling another mun's property, much less do it. Those Northern Methodist preachers need the impudence of devils to enable them to preach to honest men."

If I fail through their seizures and lack of sympathy, I do so in good company, and trust for a better day. Respectfully, &c.,

* Pastor Spring-street Church.
